Just Talkin'

This past weekend Natchitoches Times Lifestyle Editor Natalie Covher and her husband Corbin were thrilled to stay at the Writer's Cabin at Briarwood Nature Preserve. The Irises were astonishing but the mosquitoes were more than bothersome.

The couple's Cutter Naturals bug spray could not keep up with the hundreds of mosquitos attacking them. Briarwood Curator Rick Johnson helped them out with some Deep Woods OFF but also gave them a helpful tip.

He told them that he uses a natural mosquito repellant that he washes his clothes in called Bio Shield. The detergent is all natural and deet free and is a great deterrent against the pesky bloodsuck-

As they went through the trails the Covhers would watch mosquitos land on Johnson, act disinterested and move on down the buffet line to them. Johnson explained that he simply washes his clothes with the detergent and is protected for eight hours.

"I used to have to take a bath in deet every morning before I started using the soap," said Johnson.

Bio Shield was developed by pharmacists and includes a line of body wash, spray and laundry detergent. Johnson tested the duration of the detergents effectiveness and concluded that it lasts for about eight hours. Those interested can purchase the detergent and other Bioshield products from Cypress Knee Outdoors on University Parkway in Natchitoches.

Doctor creates endowment in honor of his wife

Northwestern University is pleased to announce the foundation of the Carolyn Bellue Holly Distinguished Professorship in Teaching and Learning. This endowment was made by her husband, Dr. James Holly, in loving honor of his wife and companion.

Mrs. Holly is a native of Louisiana, growing up in Baton Rouge, with a life-long desire to be a mother and a teacher. Dr. and Mrs. Holly graduated Northwestern in 1965 where

Mrs. Holly served the University as a Purple Jacket, a distinguished group of young women who were ambassadors and hostesses for the University. She was active in the Baptist Student Union and in her Christian faith. Her father visited her often at the University and developed a deep friendship with another student, Larry

After the couple married Aug. 7, 1965, Carolyn began her teaching career in Golden Meadow followed by teaching experience in Waco and West, Texas and in San Antonio Texas.

Dr. James Holly founded the Carolyn Bellue Holly Distinguished Professorship in Teaching and Learning in honor of his wife Carolyn.

Fulfilling her second goal Carolyn had two children, Carrie and Richmond, each of whom had four children. All of them were present for this presentation, except the oldest who is serving in the United States Army Special Forces. Even though Carolyn spent most of her life nurturing her family, her love of teaching was expressed in her seven-year experience of home schooling her children and in her mentoring many young women and her five granddaughters and three grandsons.

Dr. and Mrs. Holly have always sensed a "debt of gratitude" to the Universities they attended and it is an important part of their stewardship of the blessings which God has bestowed upon them to honor and par-

School board reviews alternative school situation

In the words of a school board member, "We failed."

Speaking about the alternative school, Joella Wilson asked Supt. Dale Skinner and the rest of the board to review the situation at the alternative school where she said there are mixed ages and other serious problems. Wilson made her remarks during the board meeting April 9. "We must do what we should do...reorganize the school and revamp the program," Wilson said.

While some of the students are doing well, Skinner said others have no hope of graduating and have been know to curse and threaten to kill others at the school. "If we put them in homebound it might help. We have to educate them until the end of their 21st birthday," Skinner said. "Our problem is the parents. Not the kids. The parents want to pass the buck.'

Natchitoches Special Education Department Special Education Records Destruction Notice

The NSED, in accordance with state guidelines, will destroy all special education records of former students born Jan. 1, 1989 through Dec. 31, 1989. These records are no longer needed for educational purposes. All unclaimed records will be destroyed Friday, May 22. Anyone interested in obtaining these records or more information can call 318-352-2358 Cheryl Johnson ext. 1172, Beverly Bayonne at ext. 1182 or Markeisha White

He said that of the approximately 1,400 at Natchitoches Central, about 100 are problem students. "They often have no food or clothes. The problem is at home, not at school."

Of those at the alternative school, 19 have earned zero to 5 credits; 13 have six to 10 credits; 11 have 11-15 credits; nine have 16-20 credits and three have 21-24 credits. While Skinner said some are interested in advancing, many "sit there and do nothing.'

Skinner said he hopes to begin a woodworking course next year. If the students are 18 and have only four credits, they have no hope or graduating and don't want to graduate he said.

Board member the Rev. Stephen Harris said the students need a structured environment and suggested exploring virtual classes along with raising expectations.

Sarah Senior Kay Whitehead said her high school experience at St. Mary's was rewarding.

"I enjoyed most the friendships I made, my interaction with the faculty and staff and most of all, how much everyone feels like a big family," she said. "I will take away from St. Mary's many awesome memories. Among my favorites were representing St. Mary's at the March for Life in Washington, DC and being selected as a Christmas Belle. Both of these honors allowed me to represent St. Mary's and Natchitoches and show the world what a great school we have."

Whitehead says that St. Mary's prepared her for college by teaching her to respect and value not only others, but herself.

"I feel this will help me be successful in college and life to be a responsible adult and make a valuable contribution to the community," she said.

Lakeview senior Latoria Holden said high school allowed her to meet new people that she will remember for the rest of her life. "I feel high school prepared me for college with classes that were of the ring ceremony, prom

According to Pinkney, Natchitoches Parish provides its high school students with rigorous coursework such as honors, dual enrollment, and career courses that help guide students to make their post high school decisions. 'More and more students are taking advantage of building a post secondary transcript through dual enrollment with institutions such as Northwestern State University and the Northwest Louisiana Technical College," she said. "Students enroll in courses taught on our high school campus and courses taught on the postsecondary campuses. Career courses such as Education for Careers and Journeys to Careers give students exposure to the many career choices that are high wage and high demand. It's a competitive world out there, and it is up to us to ensure our students are ready.'

Dassen Cook, a senior at NCHS, said one of his favorite memories from high school is his participation in powerlifting the 9th grade. He enjoyed traveling to meets and interacting

Reed said the faculty member that impacted him the most is Coach Lebronte Hoover. "He's my family. He's always taught me to be a better man," said Reed. "Overall Natchitoches Central helped me develop respect and self confidence.

Cook and Reed feel like they've accomplished what they wanted to do. Their graduation is a step toward making something of themselves. Natchitoches Central seniors Molly Simpson and Brooke Teekell have been together in school since they were three years old. Teekell has an older brother, so she feels like she knows what to do when it comes to graduation. "It's crazy that it's my turn to graduate and be in the spotlight," she said.

Teekell Simpson and enjoyed the higher level of classes Natchitoches Central offers. "We can be in a class with people who want to learn and have bigger goals," said Teekell.

Teekell played soccer at NCHS. She will attend Louisiana Tech to major in environmental science. She wants to become an environmental inspector like her dad who works for an oil and gas company.

Simpson played softball at NCHS. She will attend the University of Louisiana at Lafayette to major in political science with a minor in criminal justice before attending Law School to become an attorney.

Being at a big school like Natchitoches Central has given us so many opportunities. The teachers love us, but they don't baby us," said Simpson. We're gonna miss these guys, but we're excited to do something new."

Pinkney stated, "As we move forward continuing to improve the high school experience, our students will be able to further expand their knowledge of post-secondary opportunities through the new Jump Start and University Diplomas; this begins with our 2014-2015 freshman class."

Students will be able to pursue pathways that better prepare them to be college and career ready.

"As our students graduate in the future, we want to see them all excel in post-secondary education and the workforce," she said. "Our students are our future professionals whether they choose to enter the workforce

Alliances will expand NSU's influence throughout region

Northwestern State University president Dr. Jim Henderson has dramatically expanded the school's role and influence on higher education throughout North-Central Louisiana during his first few months of leadership at NSU.

A new agreement with Central Louisiana Technical Community College and a more extensive partnership with Fort Polk create for Northwestern a larger and more significant position in providing educational services across the region.

The agreement with Central Louisiana Technical Community College that has seven campuses in mid-Louisiana will enable students in that system to transfer credits in numerous academic areas to equivalent university courses at

In addition, students in the community college system will be allowed to enroll in a wide range of classes at Northwestern and apply those credits toward associate degrees or certification at the community college.

Central Louisiana Technical Community College has campuses in Alexandria, Cottonport, Ferriday, Jena, Leesville, Oakdale and Winnfield, so the agreement gives Northwestern a much broader and more visible footprint on higher education in Central Louisiana.

Under the expanded agreement with Fort Polk, Northwestern will offer degrees in nursing, business administration, criminal justice, social work, hospitality management and tourism, computer science and other areas that have been identified as academic needs by Fort Polk leaders.

Northwestern has a campus at Fort Polk and has provided classes and other services there for nearly a half-century, but the Garrison Commander at the military base said NSU "continues to make our partnership stronger and better with enhanced educational opportunities for our soldiers.'

Henderson has assigned a high priority to developing and intensifying relationships with students, faculty and staff, alumni, business and industry and other entities, and the mutually beneficial agreements with Fort Polk and Central Louisiana Technical Community College reflect those priori-

The partnerships that he has established with the technical community college and expanded with Fort Polk give NSU an increased and more relevant presence through the geographic heart of Louisiana from Mississippi to Texas

Those alliances increase higher education opportunities for a big part of the state population, provide the foundation for enrollment growth at Northwestern and establish the framework and impetus for expansion and enhancement of Louisiana's workforce.

Budget shortfall emphasizes need to curtail movie credits

Louisiana's tax breaks and incentives for the film and television production industries are much too generous and have drained too many dollars from state agencies and institutions. Legislators are acting wisely in working to curtail the tax cred-

Bills that have been sent to the House floor from the Ways and Means Committee would establish caps on the program ranging from the $226 million that production companies received in credits this year down to $100 million.

Movie and television productions in Louisiana have focused national attention on the state and created a lot of jobs, but tax breaks to get and keep the industry here have mushroomed from $114 million seven years ago to $226 million.

Single big budget films have received more in tax credits than Northwestern State University's total annual state allocation. That is absurd in light of studies showing that every dollar spent on film production in Louisiana is returning just 23 cents to the treasury

With Louisiana facing a $1.6 billion revenue shortfall next year and cutting universities and health care programs to balance the budget, the state should not continue to heap money on television and film producers. Legislators have opportunities in the current session to cap and curtail those munificent sub-

PAR: Cut legislative, judiciary budgets

LaPolitics News Service By Jeremy Alford

There are only two areas of state government that have standstill budgets for the next fiscal year: the legislative and judicial branches, with $108 million and $176 million proposed, respectively.

That means while most all other branches, departments and agencies are taking cuts to help address the $1.6 billion shortfall, lawmakers and judges are getting a pass, according to the Public Affairs Research Council.

In its latest commentary on the state budget, it is recommended that the Legislature and the judiciary each take a 5 percent cut, which would save the state $13 million next fiscal year.

"Unlike just about everyone else, these government bodies have enjoyed increased budgets the past eight years," said PAR President Robert Travis Scott.

Political Hall of Fame facing reductions

With budget reductions slated for the Political Museum and Hall of Fame in Winnfield, sympathetic supporters are scrambling for ways to find cash, and Appropriations Chair Jim Fannin is helping lead the Overall the museum is facing a $50,000 loss in the budget of the Department of Culture, Recreation and Tourism. Fannin's HB 125 would rework the funding scheme in the Winn Parish Tourism Fund so that the museum would get an additional $10,000 annually, bringing their local haul to around $45,000. But that still leaves the political hub $40,000 in the hole.

"It's in my district and I don't think any of us want to see it shut down or scaled back," Fannin said.

Ticket prices for annual induction ceremony have gone up and there's also a drive underway to increase memberships.

As for Fannin, he is cur-

The bill has been passed by the House and is pending action on the Senate side.

Move to regulate cable providers fails

When asked last week to give the Public Service Commission the authority to regulate cable and video service providers, the House Commerce Committee changed the channel.

HB 534 by Rep. Joe Bouie, D-New Orleans, would have stripped the secretary of state's office of its current oversight role and passed it along, with some additional responsibilities, to the PSC. But most of the lawmakers on the committee said they weren't provided with a good enough reason to make the change. The bill was deferred by a vote of 14-3.

Brandon Frey, executive counsel to the PSC, said the commission passed a resolution earlier this month to ask for the power to adopt new standards of customer service providers. cable Supporters say the goal was not to create new fees for the PSC, or to expand the staff, but to rather add a new layer of oversight to providers that are bundling their products with phone services, which are already being regulated by the commission.

"The commission does field a high number of complaints for an area that they do not have jurisdiction over," Frey said. "Some commissioners say they field more complaints about this than the areas they do have jurisdiction over.'

Rep. Jay Morris, R-Monroe, argued that the market is already regulating cable and video services and consumers can turn to satellite or Internet TV if they're displeased.

"In years past cable was your only option," he said. "But today it's not. It's not exactly a monopoly. Why burden the cable company with more regulation and another set of standards, that they don't know yet what they will be, when they're already subject to competition?"

Cheryl P. McCormick, CEO of the Louisiana Cable and Telecommunications Association, added in an interview prior to the hearing, "We're already regulated on the federal level by the FCC and there's more competition in the video services field than there has ever been. We believe more regulation is not the answer."

Dardenne brings on former Foster handler

Long-timers on press row will certainly recognize the name of Lt. Gov. Jay Dardenne's new communications director for his gubernatorial campaign.

George Consultant Kennedy has hired Marsanne Golsby, press secretary to former Gov. Mike Foster. Golsby has been working in public relations in recent years and handling corporate clients in the Baton Rouge area.

Aside from being a former reporter herself, Golsby is legendary for her loyalty and willingness to become part of the story as a way to take a hit for the team.

In March 1999, Greenpeace activists were shadowing Foster's every move and complaining about polluted waters along the Mississippi River. Protestors prepared and delivered a "toxic lunch" for Foster: a meal of pan-fried catharvested from allegedly tainted bayou. As they waited to see if they could give the meal to the former governor, Golsby deflated the moment by chowing down on two mouthfuls of supposedly toxic fish while staring down the protestors.

Concern expressed over bill dues

Despite hours of debate and hundreds of cards in opposition, a bill that threatens the professional associations of public school employees, fire fighters, and police officers will soon be heard on the House floor according to a news release from the Louisiana Association Educators.

Under current state law, members such as school employees and first responders can opt to deduct professional association dues directly from their paychecks. House Bill 418 would remove this payment option, making it more difficult for workers to maintain union membership and discouraging a citizen from partaking in their freedom of association.

"Living in a right-to-work state, it is a worker's choice to join a union, and many choose to do so because union representatives advocate for them when they are unable," said LAE President Debbie Meaux. "Membership in a professional organization offers many other benefits including access to liability insurance, professional development, team building, networking, classroom funding through grants, community charity work, but most importantly, a sense of unity within a professional commu-

"We believe payroll deduction options are a right for our hard-working employees," said Natchitoches School Board Superintendent Dale Skinner. "Whether it's to United Way or the Louisiana Association of Educators. This is a local decision, and no one is asking the state to change it."

At the House Labor and Industrial Relations Committee hearing, many were concerned with the unintended consequences of the bill. Louisiana unions often pool resources to support the families of injured or deceased members.

"Our biggest charity is called Fallen Heroes. If a member is injured or killed in the line of duty, we issue that person funds immediately. It's an insurance company run by the union, so to speak, and we vote to help them in times of need," said Chris Stewart, President of Baton Rouge Union of Police.

Those who spoke in opposition to the bill pointed out a more important area of focus for lawmakers this session: dealing with Louisiana's 1.6 billion dollar budget deficit.

"Louisiana is currently in the midst of a devastating budget crisis," Meaux said. 'Perhaps certain lawmakers should have higher priorities on their list than ending public servants' access to an elected

Lakeview hosts mock crash to teach, educate and save lives

CHRISTUS Cabrini Hospital School-Based Health Center gave the Lakeview High School students something to think about April 21, as prom season is rapidly approaching. The mock crash was a powerful performance and a very "BIG" success.

Nine Natchitoches Central athletes named valedictorians

By Chris Salim

A lot of times it is overlooked how much dedication and hard work is put into the success of a team. Each player on the team has to have a level of commitment that is indescribable in order to succeed.

Imagine the dedication and commitment it takes to excel not only on the field or court, but in the classroom as well.

Natchitoches Central had nine senior student-athletes do just that earning 4.0 grade point averages this year.

David Spillman lettered in football and baseball. He played linebacker for Coach Brandon Helms and the football team and catcher for Coach Kelly Spann and the baseball team.

"I've always played sports since I was little," said Spillman. "And they have always been a passion of mine but my parents always made sure I kept my grades up and made me understand how important they were. So I just want to thank them for getting me this far."

Hannah Nichols played soccer and ran track. She was part of the Lady Chiefs soccer team that advanced to the Quarterfinals for the first time in school history and will compete in the State Track Meet Saturday at LSU.

"Even though balancing my class work with my participation in sports has been challenging at times," Nichols. "I wouldn't trade it for anything. Participating in athletics has been one of my favorite parts of high school. I think athletics help to shape an individual's character using hard work. Sports have taught me a lot over the past four years, and I'm really grateful to have had the opportunity to play and run for NCHS.

Molly Simpson played for Coach Paige Grayson and the softball team and tallied eight homeruns this year.

ic abilities."

Crit Williams played shortstop for the baseball team and earned all-district honors. He is nearing a chance to play colteam in goals scored and will the State Track Meet.

"Playing sports and maintaining good grades can be hard to do," said Methvin. "Sports keep me very busy but I love them and am very passionate towards them so it's not hard for me to put in the extra effort. I'm also blessed with parents who put a lot of emphasis on education, so homework and good grades have always been a priority. I've had my share of late night meltdowns but I just talk it out to my parents who encourage me and then everything works out."

"Trying to balance class and softball obligations throughout high school has been tough to say the least," said Simpson. "Athletic and academic honors are amazing by themselves, but together they are truly something special. I am extremely proud of myself for sticking with my 4.0 while enhancing my athletlege baseball.

Claire Methvin, is a twosport athlete including soccer and track. She led the soccer be teammates with Nichols at third base for the baseball team and received all-district

"Being a student athlete while keeping a 4.0 hasn't been the easiest task I have ever faced," said Metoyer. "But since I was young, I promised my parents that I would do everything I could to become valedictorian. No matter if I had to do my homework for second block in first block I always had it done. This motivation helped me on and off the field."

Holden Murphy was a utility player for the baseball team and lettered all four years.

"It was a struggle at times," said Murphy. "But my parents Archie Metoyer played and teammates were a big help to make sure I never missed anything with all the away games and us getting back late on school nights. It was definitely challenging but it was something I knew I wanted to do. Looking back on it, it's a great accomplishment and was well worth it."

> Macie Stultz played soccer and tennis and was the captain of the soccer team in their run to the quarterfinals. She attends the Louisiana School but has maintained her friendships with her teammates no different than any student enrolled at NCHS.

Billy Clemons was a running back and linebacker for Helms and the football team and played soccer.

"My passion has always been football," said Clemons. "And I knew to continue playing I had to keep my grades up. I knew I would have to work hard and some times long hours. I always wanted to exceed the expectations of just a high school jock. I want to thank my parents, teachers and coaches for always supporting me in academics and athletics. They made all of this possible."

With the success all nine had over the course of their careers in athletics, they finished their high school careers on the ultimate pedestal; champions in the classroom.

Lady Demons fall to C. Arkansas in Southland Championship Game NATCHITOCHES, La. - No. 3 seed Central Arkansas won its first-ever softball title with a 4-2 win over No. 1 seed Both pitching staffs struggled early with five combined runs scoring in the first inning. UCA walked the first four batters of the contest and then surrendered a run on a sacrifice fly before escaping the first inning. The Bears responded in the bottom half of the inning with three straight hits to open the game with a double followed by an RBI single then an RBI double. The final run of the inning was scored on a sacrifice fly.

Northwestern State threatened to tie the game 3-3 in the fourth inning, but Central Arkansas centerfielder Amy Gunnells threw out Micayla Sorosiak at home after the Lady Demon second baseman tried to score from second on a Hailee Rhodes single. The Lady Demons would put runners in scoring position a couple more times but could not push another run

The Lady Demons were able to keep the Bears off the scoreboard until the fifth inning when Gunnells drew a bases loaded walk, giving UCA a 4-2 lead which would be the final score.

"I think it shows a ton of character," seventh-year head coach Donald Pickett said of winning two straight games to make the championship. "For us to dig the hole as deep as we dug and be able to get back to the championship game at the end, we kept fighting the whole time. I'm proud of our kids. They should be proud of what they've done here."

Northwestern State had three players selected to the alltournament team with Brittney Jones, Micayla Sorosiak and Kellye Kincannon.

The NSU softball team celebrates after Micayla Sorsiak (22) blasted a three-run homer in Thursday night's win over Southeastern 9-2. NSU faced Lamar Friday in the semi-finals of the SLC Tournament and overcame a fiverun deficit for a 16-10 extra-innings win.

Demons' 10-game road trip continues, return to SLC play this weekend at Abilene Christian ABILENE, Texas - Last weekend, the Northwestern State baseball team proved it could flush one bad game against a Power Five conference team and rebounded with two of its best games of the season.

As the Demons return to Southland Conference action. third-year coach Lane Burroughs will ask his team to refocus after taking two of three games from Notre Dame, securing Northwestern State's first series win against a Power Five team since 2002.

That task begins Friday at 6 p.m., as the Demons (26-19, 16-7 Southland) make their first trip to Crutcher Scott Stadium to face Abilene Christian (13-31, 11-13) in the opener of a three-game weekend set.

Demons have met the Wildcats, who are in their sec- Conference ond year in the Southland which will be held May 20-23

"We've never played them, but I know (coach) Britt

(Bonneau) has done a great job," Burroughs said. "They're new to Division I. They were a powerhouse where they came from. Britt won his 700th game last weekend, and I called and congratulated

The Demons enter the final weekend of a three-week, 10game road trip in second place in the Southland standings, 3½ games back of league-leading Southeastern Louisiana.

As a transitional Division I It marks the first time the member, Abilene Christian is not eligible for the Southland Tournament, Sugar Land. Texas.

That has not stopped the Wildcats from affecting the league standings. Abilene Christian enters Friday's game off a sweep of New Orleans. In early April, the Wildcats took two of three from Houston Baptist, which currently in seventh place in the conference standings.

Abilene Christian enters the weekend tied for eighth in the conference.

"Their overall record isn't what they want it to be, but they seem to win a game or weekend," every Burroughs said. "They've won a lot of conference games. They find a way to win."

This marks the third consecutive Northwestern State will play on the road and make a trip of more than six hours to reach its destination.

NSU tennis team set for regional at Baylor

Northwestern State is back in the NCAA Women's Tennis Tournament for the third time in six years, with the nearlyperfect doubles tandem of senior Tatiana Larina and junior Natalya Krutova leading the Lady Demons into a 2 p.m. match Saturday at No. 8 Baylor.

NSU (16-8)won the Southland Conference Tournament after finishing a close third in the league regular season. The Lady Demons won 15 of their last 17 matches after a slow start against a taxing non-conference schedule.

Baylor (25-6) is the Big XII Conference champion and is 18-0 at home at the Hurd Tennis Center in openinground NCAA Tournament matches all time, including a 4-0 victory over NSU in 2010.

Larina and Krutova are 19-1 in No. 1 doubles. Both are Academic All-America candidates, with Krutova owning a cumulative 4.0 grade point average and Larina at 3.95. They were on the squad two years ago for NSU's last younger teammates simple NCAA Tournament appear- advice for Saturday's match.

have experience at this level of tennis and we're very excited about that," said Bazhanova. "Most of our girls will be playing in the NCAA Tournament for the first time, and they'll have to manage their nerves and play well, which I expect them to do.

"We will do our best, and we will play well for sure. It's not going to be an easy match, and we'll have to earn every point, so we are looking forward to it," she said.

NSU played its best match to earn the NCAA berth. The Demons Lady toppled regular-season Southland champion Nicholls 4-2, a turnaround from a 4-0 loss to Nicholls just two weeks prior.

"Being in the NCAA Tournament for the second time is a different experience for me. We know we're playing one of the best teams in the nation, and we're very excited to represent our school and our conference in this competition," said Larina. "I think I'll be much more relaxed this time compared to my sophomore year. To me, there is no pressure. Every game, every match was my last one this year, and I tried to show my best tennis."

The Baylor-NSU winner will play the survivor of an 11 a.m. contest Saturday between Rice (16-8) and Tulsa (16-10), in the regional final Sunday at 2.

Natchitoches Central will have 12 student-athletes participating in the State Track Meet Saturday at LSU. Mayweather: Pacquiao is a coward Pound-for-pound ESPN's Stephen A. Smith on Tuesday that he would be willing to put off his planned September retirement to grant Manny Pacquiao a rematch next year, said he has changed his mind. "Did I text Stephen A. Smith and say I will fight him again? Yeah, but I change my mind. At this particular time, no, because he's a sore loser he's a coward," Mayweather told Showtime in an interview taped this week that will air Saturday night (9 ET) during the network's replay of last Saturday night's megafight at the MGM Grand in Las Vegas.

"If you lost, accept the loss and say, 'Mayweather, you were the better fighter," Mayweather continued.

Pacquiao will be out of the ring for nine months to a year, but Mayweather, who planned to fight again in September in the final bout of his six-fight Showtime/CBS contract and then retire, told Smith he would fight Pacquiao in a rematch next spring once he way to win, as he always does. had healed.

Mayweather (48-0, 26 KOs), Pacquiao (57-6-2, 38 KOs) and his team have blamed the loss on the shoulder injury rather than give Mayweather credit for his performance.

"I'm not going to buy into the bulls--- ... and I don't want the public to buy into the bulls---," Mayweather said. "He lost. He knows he lost. I lost a lot of respect for him after all of this."

Asked whether he could detect a problem with Pacquiao's right arm during the fight, Mayweather said, "Absolutely not. He was fast. His left hand was fast. His right hand was fast, and he was throwing them both fast and strong. Excuses, excuses."

After the fight, Mayweather said his shoulders and hands were hurt going into the fight but he didn't make excuses. He said he instead found a

"I don't really have any reaction," Brady said at Salem State as part of the college's speaker series. "Our owner commented on it yesterday. It's only been 30 hours, so I haven't had much time to digest it fully, but when I do, I'll let you know. I'll be sure to let you know how I feel about it, and everybody else.

Asked when he planned to respond to the Wells report publicly, Brady 'Hopefully soon. There is still a process that is going forth right now, and I'm involved in that process. Whenever it happens, it happens, and I'll certainly want to be very comfortable in how I feel about the statements that I make."

Brady's agent, Don Yee, did have a response to the Wells report earlier Thursday, saying in a statement that the report "contains significant and tragic flaws" and "is a significant and terrible disappointment."

Wizards' wall fractures wrist, status uncertain

WASHINGTON

Washington Wizards point guard John Wall has five nondisplaced fractures in his injured left wrist and hand and his status for the rest of the Eastern Conference semifinal series against the Atlanta Hawks is uncertain.

While the Wizards say Wall's status has yet to be determined, the All-Star's injury comes as a major blow to Washington, which is tied 1-1 with the Hawks in this bestof-seven series. Game 3 is in Washington on Saturday.

Wall initially felt as if he had fractured his wrist -which he said he broke in high school -- when he came crashing down hard late in the second quarter of Game 1. He remained in the game and said X-rays after the game revealed no breaks. Wall also said he got two opinions on his injury and was told it was just a bad sprain.

His left hand swelled up considerably after Game 1 and he was unable to get the swelling to go down significantly. ESPN's Britt McHenry reports that Wall's wrist is too swollen right now to even evaluate and that the team needs the swelling to subside before determining his status.

"With the swelling and the stuff it has been, we knew maybe there's not good news there," head coach Randy Wittman said. "We will see as we move forward what that actually means. He is still consulting with doctors. It's still pretty swollen. He can't do anything let alone if he didn't have any broken bones."

Wittman, who said Wall is the toughest player he has ever been around in his basketball career, remains hopeful that his point guard can return at some point.

Lakeview Band makes history with performance at Pineville competition; wins sweepstakes

The Lakeview Junior-Senior High School Beginning and Intermediate Band performed in the Louisiana Music Educators Association District II Large Ensemble Festival at Pineville High School March 25...

The band, under the direction of Ms. Denise Roper, earned superior ratings for both their concert performance on stage and for their performance in sight-reading.

The band was awarded the prestigious sweepstakes trophy, which is given to ensembles who earn superior ratings in both categories of adjudication.

This was the first time that the Lakeview band has earned this award, which allows them to participate in the state band festival for the first time in the school's history.

Even though this year's band consists of first year junior high beginner band students and second year high school band students, the ensemble was judged as a Class A High School

The band's performance on stage consisted of three selections including "The U.S. Field Artillery March" by John Philip Sousa, "Queenwood Overture" by Anne McGinty, and "La Rejouissance" from Music for the Royal Fireworks by G. F. Handel. They were also required to sight-read at the high school level.

Lakeview band members who performed in the festival were Courtney Mosley, Haley Garrison, Harley Godwin, Julee Daniels, Serenity Beavers, Hailey Thompson, Joshua Graham, Cadie Coleman, Diavione Frazier, Hunter Layfield, Nathan Roberts, Darren Litton, Audrey Bamburg, Dillan Winslow, Myla Porter, LaDarrion Winslow, Dylan Marr, Za'Chary Jackson, Heather Mosley, Lavunte Jackson, Christian Davis, Shunderika Browder and William Leone. These students performed in the L. M. E. A. State Band Festival at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette April 28.

Denise Roper, who has been teaching for 24 years, has been the band director at Lakeview since the 2013-2014 school year. She is a 1987 honors graduate Vandebilt Catholic High School in Houma, Louisiana. Roper is also a graduate of Louisiana State University, having received a bachelor of music education in 1991, and a master of music in 1996. She is a former member of the LSU Tiger Marching Band, LSU Symphonic Band and the L. S. U. Chamber Winds.

In addition to teaching band at Lakeview, Roper is the flutist at the Basilica of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Natchitoches.

Lakeview students say 'kick butts'

Lakeview Jr./Sr. High professor at the Madrid School participated in the annual Kick Butts Day April 10. This event was sponsored by the Rapides Foundation to raise awareness about tobacco prevention.

The Tobacco Prevention & Control Student Committee, made up of Mekaila Braxton, LaTia Beavers, Jada Aldredge, Alyssa Montgomery, Martina and Jarnagin Ke'Aria Thomas, did a great job planning the event. The students went to six stations to learn about tobacco and the effects of tobacco use on the body.

Station 1 - How does the addiction affect you?

· Anti-smoking Video · Addictions that the students had to act out

Station 2 - Act it out ·Pick a tobacco fact from the fact sheet and act it out Station 3 – Stick to the con-

Students get Extra Mile scholarships

Placing an emphasis on excellence in academic, campus involvement, leadership, service and employment is paying off for Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity students Northwestern State University. Six members of Beta Omicron chapter were awarded $2,500 scholarships the 8th annual David D. Morgan "Extra Mile" Scholarship Banquet April 24. Junior Sean Austin of DeRidder, senior Austin Craft of DeRidder, junior Manton Capers of Wortham, Texas; freshman Michael Dailey of West Monroe, junior Zack Cockerham of Morgan City, and freshman William Devall of Denham Springs were recognized as exceptional leaders at the event, held at Merci Beaucoup Restaurant in the Natchitoches Historic District.

The Morgan "Extra Mile" Scholarship Program is funded by and named for Beta Omicron chapter alumnus David D. Morgan. An entrepreneur, an insurance executive and a leader within his industry and his fraternity, Morgan has spent a considerable portion of his life helping others to be successful. Instilling the lessons he learned growing up in Louisiana - lessons of hard work, industriousness, and self-determination – into the heart of this initiative, the Pi Kappa Phi Foundation created the scholarship program in 2008. In the time since, the program has furthered the academic pursuits of more than 40 NSU students in awards exceeding $40,000. Earlier this year, the success of the Extra leader. "Success isn't always a Mile scholarship at NSU went nationwide. Funded by a million-dollar endowed gift from important learning lesson for Underscoring the purpose and mission of the program, friend of the Fraternity and NSU Dean of Students Frances Conine delivered the keynote address. Conine has been a member of the Pi Kappa Phi "family" her entire ic excellence. But just as life. Her father, the late John C. She was named honorary house mother for the Beta Omicron chapter at NSU in the mid 2000s.

Beta Omicron Chapter Advisor Doug Ireland and Alumni Chapter president Lane Luckie presented the scholarships on behalf of Morgan. Dozens of student alumni, parents, and representatives from Northwestern State University were in attendance for the catered dinner.

The Pi chapter of Phi Alpha Theta History Honor Society at Northwestern State University recently held its annual induction ceremony at the Cammie Henry Research Center in Watson Library. The Pi chapter was founded in 1934 and is one of the oldest organizations at Northwestern State. Inductees were, left to right, Felicia Brand of Montgomery, Megan Wetta of Metairie, Jalie Bills of Natchitoches, David Brossett of Centerville, Christopher Taylor of Ruston, David Stephens of Forest and Jordan Wilson of Vicksburg, Mississippi. Also inducted were Amber Artis of Oberlin and Logan Schlatre of Baton Rouge. Dr. Charles Pellegrin, associate professor of history and director of the Southern Studies Institute, conducted the ceremony.

Northwestern State University faculty, staff, recruiters and student volunteers spent a day visiting Bossier Parish Community College to share information and details about programs available to students interested in transferring to the university. NSU also provided an outdoor picnic, prizes, giveaways and a photo booth. Northwestern State and BPCC share an articulation agreement that allows students to complete their associate degrees and transfer credit hours to Northwestern State that count towards their baccalaureate degrees.

Store cameras prevent burglary

Natchitoches Parish Sheriff's Detectives are attempting to identify a suspect involved in the April 29 business burglary of Cowboys Truck Stop located in the 900 block of La. Hwy 174 near Ajax. Detectives say entry was gained into the business causing $2,000 in damages. It appears that nothing was taken from the business after the suspect observed video surveillance equipment inside the store. The Natchitoches Times

Though Mother and Dad were married in the Immaculate Conception Church August 24, 1947, they did not stand on the altar. Mom was Catholic, Dad raised Baptist, and his Protestant upbringing prevented this.

We five children were baptized Catholic, but still spent many wonderful days at Liberty Baptist Church in Martin, Louisiana.

This church was organized Aug. 9, 1862 in a schoolhouse near the home of Hosea Pickett. John Dupree donated ten acres for the church location. A church building was erected in 1868 and remained until 1944 when Gahagan Thomas donated two acres of land near the cemetery.

We often attended family homecomings, reunions, memorials and other gatherings there. These gatherings always began with a service (conducted by Dad's cousin, Carlton Vance) in the church, but outside, food always fol-

Wooden tables were loaded with home cooked foods. There were no boxes of Popeye's chicken, Brookshires' potato salad or store bought cookies and cakes. The food was always fresh and prepared at home. This was a time when everyone showed off their culinary skills with the most wonderful 🦪 foods you ever laid eyes on.

Tables were covered with chicken and dressing, fresh field peas, corn on the cob, cornbread, cat head biscuits, ham, and potato salad. For dessert there were cookies, cakes, pies and Dad's favorite, banana pudding.

When the need arose, there were outdoor privies where we had to watch out for snakes and spiders.

We children swung on the swing sets and played hide and seek and other outside games. We ran through the cemetery oblivious to what lay under our innocent feet until our parents took us and pointed out long gone ancestors. Then we would remember them.

Some children today don't know who their great-grandparents are, much less other deceased ancestors.

I miss those days in the past. Family reunions are now held at the Martin Community Center. The outside wooden tables are gone, replaced by a new church hall. Although sometimes homecooked food is served, it's more likely to be store bought. At reunions I seldom see young people attending, and the older ones are quickly going to their rest.

We lost my dad in 1995. Under the direction of Carlton Vance, his memorial service was held at Liberty Baptist Church. It was a beautiful day and a cool breeze blew over the hill and cemetery.

I still visit the church and cemetery from time to time. On my last visit there I happened upon my cousins David Adkins and Shelby Carl Thomas who were setting a fence post on a neighboring property. We had a nice visit. My oldest son and his two year old daughter were with me. While we chatted, Paisley enjoyed swinging on the swing set just as I had over 50 years ago. Although times are changing, at least some things remain the same.

According to a new survey by coupon site RetailMeNot, only 8 percent of mothers surveyed said they wanted flowers this Mother's Day. The cost of a bouquet ranges from $40-$100, so why not use the money to pamper Mom instead. A mother's love is unique, so why not get her a gift to reflect that.

Botox: Wrinkles result from a combination of many factors including, but not limited to, raising children. When Mom frowned at a dirty bedroom, concentrated on helping with homework or squinted to see her baby up to bat, her muscles contracted, causing skin to furrow and fold. Botox Cosmetic works beneath the skin's surface and targets the underlying muscle activity that causes frown lines and crow's feet to form over time. "A lot of places don't use real Botox," said Shay Ball. "Our Botox is the real Botox Cosmetic. You can tell by the hologram on the

"I've had extensive training under plastic surgeons, and with the tiny needles they are making these days there is hardly ever any bruising." Ball is certified through the American Board Surgery.

Voluma XC: Being fresh faced is not just about reducing lines and wrinkles. Cheeks can lose volume and skin may begin to sag. Give Mom the ability to defy gravity. Voluma XC is an injectable gel that will instantly add volume to her cheek area to correct agerelated volume loss. It provides contour and a subtle lift for up to two years. "This isn't silicon, it is a natural thing found in your body," said Ball.

Latisse: A comment commonly heard by new mothers is how long and beautiful their babies' lashes are. Aging may affect lashes, diminishing length, thickness, pigmentation and number of eyelash hairs. Latisse solution is a oncenightly treatment applied topically to the base of the upper eyelashes with a small brush. The results come in as little as four weeks and full growth in 16 weeks. "Latisse was originally a glaucoma medication,' said Jennifer Carpenter. "Men went back to their doctors complaining that they could not use the medication anymore reduce the amount of HA because it was making in skin. Simplify her morning routine. Cosmetics today are being permanently applied through dermapigmentation process that evolved from the ancient art of tattooing.

Gloria Jean Normand and her daughter, Jennifer Adkins, have been applying permanent pigments to skin since 1985. These cosmetics are perfect for the busy women who has little time to apply conventional make-up, for the sporty women who wants to look natural and for those with oily skin whose make-up seems to disappear after a short time. Women allergic to conventional make-up or those with limited hand movement, poor eyesight, or contact lenses may benefit from the application of permanent cosmetics.

"Each procedure takes approximately an hour to complete. Many clients have a procedure applied during lunch hour and go immediately back to work," said Adkins.

NSU to hold GRE testing

Northwestern University is offering the GRE online. Prospective graduate students wishing to take the online version of the GRE can take the test at NSU May 15 and 29 or June 5 and 19.

"Since the GRE is required of all of our graduate degree programs, our students were required to travel to approved testing sites throughout Louisiana and Texas in order to take the test," said Dr. Steve Horton, vice provost and dean of the College of Arts, Letters, Graduate Studies and Research. "Because of the limited number of testing sites and times that are available, some of our students struggled to meet admission deadlines. Having a local site eliminates that headache."

Grown and used in cuisines around the world, basil is also indispensable to Louisiana cooks. Besides having extraordinary taste, basil is attractive and really easy to grow.

Not only is basil a great addition to the herb garden, but the numerous shapes, sizes, leaf colors and attractive flowers make basil an excellent addition to almost any garden situation. Tuck basil plants into unused garden corners, display them among vegetables, edge a flower garden with dwarf types, or plant the more ornamental varieties right among the flowering plants in beds or containers.

Most culinary types of basil are varieties of the species Ocimum basilicum. The 2 to 3 feet tall are the best known for culinary use. But there are also flavorful crinkle-leafed and ruffle-leafed varieties, all of which make superb pesto and double as outstanding ornamental additions to the landscape.

Basil thrives during our hot, humid summers and asks for nothing more in the garden than full to part sun, welldrained soil and ample water. It grows quickly from seed, which may be planted now through July. Transplants, readily available at local nurseries, may be planted into the garden now through August.

Basil plants do not tolerate cold well, so it should not be planted into the garden before April. Basil is also quick to languish when chilly weather arrives in November and December.

When you purchase basil transplants from the nursery, notice that the growers often plant a number of seeds in each pot. This produces a larger-looking product ready for sale faster. Unfortunately, 10 or 12 plants crammed together will not grow well in the long run when planted into the garden. It is best either to separate the plants or pinch off all but the strongest one or two plants in the pot prior to planting.

If you decide to separate them, handle them gently and pot them individually in small pots with potting soil. Keep them in the shade for a few days to get over the shock. Gradually move them into full sun, and in about two weeks after dividing they should be chop it to the desired fineness recovered enough to go into the garden. This can provide freezer bag spread out in a smooth-leafed types that grow you with a number of plants layer about one-half inch trom one purchase.

> Allow newly planted basil plants to grow for a while before you start to harvest. For standard-size varieties, you can generally start to lightly harvest when the plants reach about 10 to 12 inches tall.

Individual basil leaves may be harvested for use, but more typically the plant is pinched or cut back. Cut or pinch basil just above a pair of leaves, removing no more than a third to a quarter of the plant at one time. This leaves plenty of foliage to keep the plant bushier and more attractive in Minimum. the garden.

basil for seasoning is wonderful because the full, rich flavors are at their peak when used fresh. When basil blooms, the young flower spikes can be chopped and used just like the leaves, and they are excellent used for garnishes.

Often, basil produces faster than you can use it. When that happens, it's important to know how to preserve the extra. Besides, because basil cannot be grown here in winter, it is good to save some of your summer production for use then. The most common methods of preserving basil are drying and freezing.

Air dry individual leaves or bundles of stems indoors at room temperature until the leaves are crispy. Crumble them and store in an airtight container. To freeze basil, first and then place it in a plastic

You can choose from a wide variety of basil varieties. Excellent varieties best for typical culinary use include Green Ruffles, Sweet, Mammoth, Large Leaf Italian, Sweet Genovese and Lettuce Leaf.

Dwarf varieties grow 6 to 12 inches tall and produce small leaves with excellent flavor on ball-shaped or mounding plants that are excellent for small spaces, containers, window boxes and edging. Available varieties include Spicy Globe, Green Bouquet, healthy and productive. When Fine Green, Basilico Greco, harvested regularly, basil is Dwarf Bush, Minette and

Purple-leaf forms are Harvesting and using fresh attractive in the garden as well as chopped fresh into salads. When used to make flavored vinegar, purple basil imparts a beautiful pink tint to the vinegar. Look for varieties such as Purple Ruffles, Red Rubin, Osmin Purple and Dark Opal.

> Finally, a large number of basils are grown for their more intense basil flavor or unique flavors unlike typical basil. Many are ornamental. Some interesting choices are 2002 All-America Selections winner Magic Michael, Siam Queen, Sweet Dani (lemon), Cinnamon, Lemon, Lime, Licorice, Holy Basil (Ocimum sanctum) and camphor or African basil (O. kilimandscharicum).

"My mom is pretty much the best. She does everything for our family! She cooks, she cleans, she cares for us. She's good at everything she does. She always makes sure to take time for us, even though there's seven of us and we're all really annoying. It takes a lot of skill to raise seven kids and go through each of their ups and downs and still be sane.

My mom is the perfect mother. She loves all of us (of course, that doesn't mean she likes us all the time). She's a great example to everyone around her. She is very strong in the church, and her testimony goes unswayed no matter what may happen. The best part of that is she spreads it to us. It's like she has a light and everybody around her catches some of it. My mom is the best. There's no doubt about it. I love you, Mom! Happy Mother's Day!"-Leah DeFord

"I love my Mother because she's living proof of what can be accomplished in this world if you possess conviction, diligence, integrity, and most of all, faith. She's shown me that the world will try to knock you down, but the good part is when you rise up with style and grace."

At the second table, West also led the king of hearts against five clubs. But here, East overtook the king with the ace and returned a low spade, hoping to forestall a potential endplay against his partner.

Declarer finessed the nine, losing to the ten, and West then played the queen of hearts. South ruffed and, virtually certain that West had the king of spades, decided to play for a squeeze. Accordingly, he led all his remaining trumps, discarding a spade from dummy, and then cashed the K-Q-A of diamonds, producing this position with West not yet having played to the last diamond:

 $\triangle AQ$ West could not afford to part with the jack of hearts, so he discarded the five of spades. This did not help him in the least because declarer, confident of what was going on, led a spade to the ace, felling the king, and so also made five clubs.

PONDERINGS

By the Rev. Doug de Graffenried Pastor at First United Methodist Church

When I do watch television, my selections are the fix up the house station or the old television shows station. The fix up the house station has cost me money. They will show an improvement made in a home in thirty minutes and I think, "I can do that." What they didn't show were all the mistakes that had to be fixed by real contractors and edited out of the show. The show's hosts can remodel a bathroom in the length of the Projects involving time consuming.

show channel is appealing because I have seen all of the shows before. If the clock reads 11:20 p.m., Perry Mason is about to solve the murder mystery. Perry always drives the guilty party to confess at 11:23 p.m. I watch the episodes long enough to remember "who did this crime." I also drive my bride crazy because there was one set used in multiple episodes for "rich people." I'm always pointing out the "rich person's" house set. There are characters that appear in every episode as spectators in the courtroom. They also appear in crowd scenes. I have not started pointing them out to her. I'm going to aggravate her by continuing to note the "rich person's house" set.

Enough nostalgia, most of plumbing are much more the commercials on the oldies stations have to do with The old television drugs. Drug companies have rightly assumed that only the more mature folks watch these nostalgic television stations. We more mature people will grow even more mature because of the miracles of pharmaceuticals. The drug companies advertise heavily especially at night. I'm not sure what these new drugs do, but I do know about their side-effects. In truth, the articulation of side effects takes longer than the part of the ad touting the efficacy of the drug.

Ironically, the next most frequent kind of commercial at night is aimed at people who have taken certain drugs. These are ads by law firms informing folks that if they have been hurt or have experienced ill side effects there might be a legal remedy. The hilarious part of these ads is nal." Turnover, I can't even thing about "heaping up the copy was written by an ad agency that was not paying attention. I have actually heard the line, "if you have taken this medicine and suffered ill side effect a, b, and c or if you have died call us today." Obviously they meant if your loved one died, but they don't say it. "If you have died call us." I have written down that number. I want to call and ask how many dead people have called.

This vehicle called language can amuse us, embarrass us or get us out of and into trouble. I had a preacher friend who would admonish his congregation to pray for all those "sick in the bulletin." Now if you have ever had a case of "in the bulletin" you know that the only hope is prayer. There was a music director who would instruct us to "turnover in your hymget into a hymnal. Ok, I will confess two things I should not. I can tell when someone is about to pray that they will likely use the name of God several times in their prayer. If they start and end their first sentence by invoking the name of God, I start counting. I count the number of "God. Lord, Lord God, Lord Jesus, Father, Father God, Savior, Jesus, Merciful God," used in their prayer. I think you only have to address God once, He also tend to use the word "just" many times in the same prayer. I listened to a guy who insisted on praying in public. In one prayer he said the name for God twenty one times and "just" thirty three in the same short prayer! (I was counting the names of God, I had a buddy counting the "justs.") Jesus said some-empty phrases" in prayer, over using the name of God and saying "just" before every request qualify as empty phrases.

Those of you praying in public need to watch it.

I have verbal ticks too. I am in a program in which my sermons are evaluated by a speech therapist at Duke Divinity School and by a group of my peers.

I am very aware of my verbal stalls, ticks and other bad knows who He is. These folks habits. Mine are on the Internet for the entire world to see and hear.

> Words have the power to heal or hurt. If we are not careful, words can cause all manner of trouble.

> Jesus is the Word made flesh. God's love was clearly spoken in and through Jesus.

> That is a Word we all need to experience.

Some vegetables thrive in summer heat

By Dan Gill

The high temperatures that will be with us now until October take their toll in the vegetable garden. Tomatoes set fewer fruit and snap beans produce poor-quality beans, for instance.

For some vegetables, on the other hand, the hotter it is the better they like it. As the last of the cool season crops like potatoes and onions are removed or plantings of early summer vegetables such as snap beans finish, these hot weather vegetables are ideal to plant in your garden.

Keep in mind that gardening in mid- to late summer can be more challenging than gardening in spring and early summer. Insect and disease problems are often more numerous, and you must stay on top of control.

Long stretches of hot, dry weather are not uncommon. and you will need to remember to irrigate the garden deeply as needed to keep the vegetables growing vigorously. When you water, avoid wetting the foliage if you can use soaker hoses, for example. This can help to cut down on fungal infections. The spores of most fungi that cause vegetable diseases must land on a wet leaf to successfully grow and infect the plant.

Don't forget to much your beds about 2 inches thick with your favorite mulch. I like to use free stuff like leaves and pine straw. A good layer of mulch provides a variety ben-

Most importantly, mulches help prevent weeds. Annual weed seeds need light to germinate, and the mulch blocks light from reaching the soil. That's why it needs to be thick enough. This keeps the seeds from germinating and the garden has less weeds.

Blocking sunlight from reaching the soil surface also prevents the soil from heating up. Keeping the roots cooler helps vegetables deal with summer heat.

Mulch conserves moisture and prevents the soil from drying out so fast - important during dry weather.

Heat-tolerant vegetables

You could hardly have a Southern garden without okra. Plant seeds now into well prepared beds spacing the seeds 4 to 6 inches apart. Water frequently. When the seeds come up, thin the seedlings to about 12 inches apart. Production usually begins in 50 to 60 days and continues until fall. Harvest the pods frequently while they are small and tender.

Southern peas are easy, prodelicious. and Yardlong beans grow well in the state during summer. Excellent varieties include Mississippi Silver, Purple short vines and do not require trellises. Members of the cucumber family that can be planted now include cantaloupe, cassabanana, cucuzza, luffa, mirliton (plant sprouted fruit), pumpkin and watermelon. Although squash and cucumbers can be planted now, production is difficult during midsummer because of pest days in the 90s and nights in the 70s, these tomatoes will set far fewer fruit as pollination is less reliable.

Tomato breeders have worked on this problem, however, and developed a number of varieties that are able to set fruit despite the high temperatures. So if you're going to plant tomatoes this late, be sure you choose types able to set fruit in high temperatures, such as Florida 91, Heatwave II, Phoenix, Solar Set, Sun Leaper, Sun Master, Solar Fire and Talladega. Cherry tomatoes and paste tomatoes tend to continue to set fruit well during summer

Disease and insect problems are often more challenging for tomatoes growing during the stressful heat of midsummer. Keep an eye out for pest problems and deal with them quickly with appropriate treatments before too Jerusalem much damage occurs. That Malabar spinach, really goes for all vegetables.

Europe and is slowly gaining popularity here in the United States. It is not as commonly grown in Louisiana as it deserves to be. Although they resemble pole snap beans, yardlong beans are more closely related to Southern peas, such as black-eyed, purple hull and crowder peas.

As with snap beans, the part of this plant commonly eaten is the immature bean pods. Harvest when the pods are smaller than the diameter of a pencil, before the seeds have filled out inside and when the pods still snap when bent - generally when about 12 to 18 inches long. You may need to harvest daily because continuous picking keeps the plants producing.

Other vegetables that can be planted now are amaranth, collards, eggplant (the long, skinny Japanese types are more productive in heat), artichokes, Zealand spinach, peanuts, hot One of my favorites hot peppers, sweet peppers (Banana, Gypsy), sweet potato (slips), Swiss chard and southern Asia, it is now tomatillo.
