Please keep em comin.

This was absolutely wonderful!

Mother Theresa was once asked how to achieve world peace. She said one had to start with one's self. Next she said we need to work on our family relationships to have harmonious, loving, caring, uplifting, unselfish, giving, thoughtful and supportive relationships within the family --devoid of rancor and criticism. She said the next step was to have these same relationships at our work, our schools and in our communities then extend these traits to our larger locality (such as a state) and then to the nation. She's right. It starts with us and it is our responsibility to make a difference and see that difference spreads -- similar to the ripples a rock makes when thrown into a pool.

Your success at SETMA appears multidimensional including being anchored in deep-seated spiritual values.

Spiritual practices, when adhered to put one in a state of grace. Your practice appears to be functioning within a state of grace.

All the best,
Kathleen

Dr. Holly,

Thank you for sending. It was interesting reading. I am forwarding it on to Genevieve and Marc.

(Genevieve and Mark, as we spend time on the use cases, the examples in this testimony are relevant.)

Regards,
Kathleen

In 1998, I testified before the Texas insurance Commissioner on the issues we are now dealing with in the nation. The following link is to that 18-year-old-address which is verbatim. At the end are links to other material on the context of the hearing etc
