Healthline - The Power of Intelligent Health - Assessment of SETMA August 18, 2015

From: Steve Gasiorek

Hi James,

I also enjoyed our conversation. The reality is that SETMA is at the top end of the curve in purposefully putting processes and procedures in place to capture relevant patient information in structured EMR data fields so that the information can be leveraged appropriately down stream. I have done a considerable amount of EMR onboarding/integration into Clinically Integrated Networks, ACOs, etc. and the quality and completeness of your patient data is across the board.

I have availability this Thursday, Friday, and early next week to schedule a walkthrough of our Coding InSight application. Let me know a couple of times that work for you and I will send out an invite.

Thanks,

Steve
