What I Offer to TCPI -- SETMA's website

Today in the last session of the TCPI, I indicated that my offer is SETMA's website -- www.jameshollymd.com.

I wish to explain what I mean. Over the next two months, I intend to organize a syllabus -- a guide -- for practice transformation. It will be entitled, Transforming Your Practice in Collaboration with CMS' TCPI. It will be maintained on SETMA's website and will be accessible free of charge and with unlimited down loading privileges by anyone.

There is no revenue generation in any way at www.jameshollymd.com. CMS can disclaim any endorsement of the site and or of its content.
